

December News

Room 216

Curriculum

Health: In December, we will be working on awareness of disease and illness prevention.

Writing: Students will continue writing informational pieces on expert topics. They will be organizing their writing, crafting strong leads and endings, and editing for grade level conventions.

Math: We are finishing up our unit on place value within 1000. Before winter break, we will begin a short unit on writing and solving story problems.

Reading: Students are focusing on nonfiction text. They are identifying text features and describing their purpose. They are also differentiating between topic and main idea.

Social Studies: We will be wrapping up our unit on neighborhood. Be on the look out for student books to come home with artifacts from our unit.
